

Dr. Mohanty joined the board of the North Carolina Society of Gastroenterology in 2021. He is currently a member of Charlotte Gastroenterology and Hepatology and has been there since 2005. He has a special interest in the treatment of inflammatory bowel disease and is trained in both diagnostic and advanced therapeutic endoscopic techniques, including ERCP. He also has an avid interest in research and is currently the co-director of Charlotte Gastroenterology and Hepatology's research division.

He is a former chairman of the Gastroenterology division at Novant Presbyterian Medical Center and is the current president of Charlotte Gastroenterology and Hepatology.

He attended undergraduate and medical school at UNC-Chapel Hill. He completed his residency at Wake Forest University Baptist Medical Center and returned to UNC Hospitals to complete his G.I. fellowship.

Outside of work, Dr. Mohanty's hobbies include playing golf and tennis in his hometown of Charlotte. He also enjoys traveling with his wife and their two daughters.

He is honored to serve on the board of NCSG in its efforts to provide an open and balanced medium for all GI practitioners to further their education in a collegial atmosphere that is unique in the state of North Carolina.